

Charlie Davis

Coach Davis started his coaching career in 1976 as an assistant soccer coach at HunterdonCentral. Before coming to Hillsborough, Coach Davis coached baseball at Somerville High School, Bridgewater East High School and Somerset Vo-Tech, basketball at Florence Walther Elementary School and Somerset Vo-Tech, and football at Manville High School and Bridgewater West High School. Since coming to Hillsborough, Charlie is the only person to be the head coach of four different varsity sports – Baseball, Girls Basketball, Girls Volleyball, and Boys Golf. He has also been an assistant varsity coach in football, boys' and girls' basketball, boys' golf and softball and was a member of the 2000 State Football Championship coaching staff.

He has also coached football at South Brunswick and Passaic High Schools. If you add up all the seasons he has coached it totals 104. In one way or another he has touch the lives of thousands of athletes.

During his coaching tenure, he has had the privilege of coaching many outstanding young men and women, including 3 professional football players, Shaun O'Hara, Shawn Mayer and most recently Mohammed Sanu who is currently playing with the Atlanta Falcons. But one of his best coaching experiences was being able to coach his son CJ in football and basketball at HHS. Coach Davis lives in Hillsborough with his wife Mary Alyce and dog Bandit and has a son CJ and daughter-in-law Michelle.
